March 2015

From Pastor John

From Abraham and Sarah, God's people through the ages have understood our unique calling. We are blessed in order to be a blessing. We are chosen by God for salvation and for service.

Through the generosity and faith of Lillian Steele, one of our longtime members, Starmount has been blessed with the largest single gift in our congregation's history. At its February 15, 2015 meeting, Session received 9,790 shares of Exxon Mobil stock and will be receiving an additional roughly $500,000 cash in the next few months from Lillian's estate. The total value of the bequest is in excess of $1.4 million.

Truly, Starmount Presbyterian Church is blessed. We have been blessed by the generosity of a former school librarian, a longtime member, a woman of faith, a child of God, who had no immediate family nor children of her own but for whom Starmount was very much her family, her children, her legacy, her heritage.

Lillian's gift comes designated simply for the "general charitable purposes" of Starmount Presbyterian Church.

I am happy to announce that Starmount is prepared to receive this kind of faithful generosity. Session has authorized a special ad hoc committee to establish a process and parameters for putting Lillian's gift into action. We who are so richly blessed are called now to be a blessing - to ourselves, our community and our world, and so we will.

Join me in celebrating the faithful memories of Lillian Steele who walked and served in our midst for over thirty years. Join with the Session as they seek to shepherd Lillian's faithfulness through Christ's mission and ministry here at Starmount Presbyterian Church for years to come, and finally, continue to pray with me that we at Starmount will always understand our true calling as a blessed people who seek to be that blessing with and for the whole world.

See you in church!

From Pastor Kathryn

I'm currently reading a book for my Doctor of Ministry studies about technology and the church. While looking for insight into how social media can be utilized for the betterment of the church community, I came across a statement from it that caused me to pause and laugh. Published in 2004, the book on "new technologies" said the following about cell phones, making the book's author seem like a modern-day Nostradamus: "There is a possibility that the cell phone could be combined with a wireless PDA (personal data assistant) that would have the potential to download sermon notes and scripture quotations even as the sermon was being delivered" and that "parents could set their cell phones to vibrate instead of ring and the nursery could reach them during worship." The author concluded this footnote by writing, "trust me - someone will do all these things somewhere someday." My, oh my, John Jewell didn't understand how prophetic he was! The primary point he was making about cell phones in the first place was that, in his opinion, how "cell phones should be checked at the door", since they can be proven to be intrusive. While I don't necessarily find that statement totally inaccurate, I have to think about how dependent we are on cell phones today and how much technology - cell/mobile phones included - can be quite helpful in worship and in ministry, when used properly.

If you haven't done so already and find yourself using the internet, social media, and your mobile device on a regular basis, then I encourage you to connect with Starmount (and its members) in all the ways this congregation allows. During this segment of my studies, I am examining how the Starmount family supports one another from Sunday to Sunday through the use of social media, in particular. What I've been noticing is that in the midst of our busy lives, members are taking a moment to acknowledge a fellow member's birthday or send get well wishes when they know of a recent surgery or illness. They connect with college students currently away from home or former members with fond Starmount memories. They reach out to one another, recognizing that people have gone missing in the pews for a few Sundays. There's also time to share a laugh at one another's expense, thanks to old pictures or a funny self-reflection. In my opinion, I think it's a wonderful way for the congregation to cross generational and social boundaries to grow closer to one another, confident in the support of one another, because they are able to gather each Sunday as a body of Christ.

I'm thankful for the Starmount network that I find online. I am also appreciative that a "hunch" I had about how tight this community can be is, indeed, playing out online as I anticipated. "Trust me – someone will do all these things" – to the glory of God.

Blessings,
Pastor Kathryn

One Great Hour of Sharing

Imagine the joy when your gift positively affects someone's life – both the joy someone feels as their burdens ease and the joy you feel when you realize your gift has helped. As Christians, we speak of God providing us with blessings in abundance, but there are many in the world who live without the basic necessities of life. Surely God calls us to share.

By giving to One Great Hour of Sharing, you make a conscious decision to bring the joy and love of Christ to some of the most vulnerable and desperate places and people around the world. With your generous gift, you can be a channel through whom God satisfies the hungry, comforts the distressed, and brings hope to the poor and oppressed. Please give generously.

Where does the money go?

The Presbyterian Hunger Program receives 36 percent of undesignated One Great Hour of Sharing gifts, while the Self-Development of People and Presbyterian Disaster Assistance each receive 32 percent.

Please give generously – Easter Sunday, April 5th.

- Small cans of other sources of protein such as beef-a-roni
- Individual serving sizes of Mac and Cheese
- Ramen noodles
- Small cans of soup

Children's Class about Communion

March 27

Communion is one of the two sacraments of the PCUSA – baptism is the other. Being able to participate in the Lord's Supper can be a powerful experience for worshippers of all ages. But for many children growing up in the church, there can be confusion about the "snack" that is being passed from person-to-person during worship.

For all families who are interested in learning more about the meaning of communion and its elements, as well as "proper communion etiquette" (What do I do when I get the tray? What do I say? What should I do next? Should I eat it? Should I dip it?), please join Pastor Kathryn and members of the Faith Formation Committee for this important two-part event: Friday evening, March 27th at 5:30-7:30 p.m. for a meal and discussion, followed by the second part on Saturday morning from 9-11.

The class is open to children of all ages – families can decide for themselves when it would be most appropriate for children to participate, although the class is designed for early elementary-aged children. If you'd like more information, please contact Pastor Kathryn, and look for more information about signing up either online or via bulletin announcements.

CHOIR HOSTS NEEDED

Hope College Chapel Choir is coming to Starmount for a concert on Friday, March 13, at 7 p.m. Church members are asked to house choir members for the night, provide breakfast in the morning, and return them to church. If you are able to provide housing for 2-3 college students that evening, please contact Pastor Kathryn.

STARMOUNT COMMUNITY GARDEN

It may be cold outside, but the thought of tilling and planting the 2015 Starmount Community Garden makes one feel warmer. The spring season will start with a workday on March 14 at 9:00 a.m. to get the garden ready: tilling, repairing beds, adding compost, etc. On Saturday, March 21 at 9:00 a.m. we will start planting, weather permitting. Potatoes, peas, carrots, lettuce, and onions can be planted. Young children are encouraged to come to help with the planting on this first day of spring.

For those new to the church, our community garden donates 98% of the organic produce we grow to the hungry in our community. In 2014 that amount was 1650 lbs. If you work in the garden you can have some delicious vegetables to enjoy.

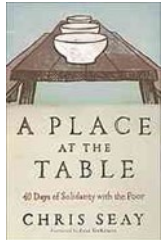

Volunteers have been meeting on Saturday mornings during the growing season since 2009 tilling, planting, harvesting, laughing, and getting to know each other better. We invite all ages to help out.

Spring Food Drive—

Senior Leadership Greensboro /
Greensboro Urban Ministry

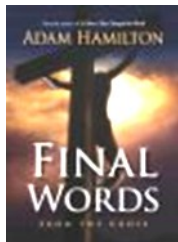

Food Lion Grocery Stores have agreed to allow the semi-annual food drives to resume. Starmount has been asked to return to Food Lion, South Holden Road, to participate in helping Greensboro Urban Ministry restock their pantry. We will be manning the store on Saturday, April 11, from 10:00 – 6:00, at both entrances to the store. Please contact Evelyn Garrison at 420-7689 if you can help collect for one hour on April 11. Otherwise, I just may be calling YOU.

A Place at the Table, 40 Days of Solidarity with the Poor by Chris Seay. “In a culture built on consumption--especially of food--it is easy to forget the poor that Jesus cared so much about. Seay invites readers on a journey of self-examination, discipline, and renewed focus on Jesus that will change their lives. He challenges readers to eat like the poor for forty days in solidarity with a much-neglected group of people, and to donate the money they save on groceries to a charity or project that serves the poor in concrete ways. There is a short chapter for each of those forty days with Scripture, reflections, prayers, encouragement, and tips for engaging the whole family in the process. The six-session DVD, shot in such locations as the Holy Land, Haiti, and Ecuador, will help small groups and entire churches go on a passionate journey of radical faith, personal action, solidarity with the poor, and extravagant grace.” From Amazon.com Book call no. 248.47 Se 2012 and DVD 112

Final Words from the Cross by Adam Hamilton. “Final Words by Adam Hamilton is an interesting and thought provoking examination of the final words that Jesus Christ uttered on the cross. These seven phrases recorded in the gospels have more meaning than a lot of Christians give to them and it was great to read a book that examines these statements to a deeper level.” Amazon.com review Call no. 232.96 Ha 2011

The Dressmaker of Khair Khana: Five sisters, one remarkable family and the woman who risked everything to keep them safe. by Gayle Tzemach Lemmon. “The incredible true account of Kamila Sidiqi who, when her father and brother were forced to flee Kabul, became the sole breadwinner for her five siblings. Armed only with grit and determination, she picked up a needle and thread and created a thriving business of her own and held her family together.” From back cover Call no. 958.1 Le 2011. I’ve read this one and definitely recommend it. (Mary Jane)

The Locust Effect, Why the End of Poverty Requires the End of Violence by Gary Haugen and Victor Boutros. “A plague of everyday violence lies beneath the surface of the world’s poorest communities. Common violence—like rape, forced labor, illegal detention, land theft, police abuse and other brutality— has become routine and relentless. Basic public justice systems in the developing world have descended into a state of utter collapse. Haugen and Boutros offer a searing account of how we got here— and what it will take to end the plague.” From book jacket Call no. 362.5 Ha 2013
