

J.S. Bach - Church Cantatas BWV 44

Form: Duet (T/B) - Chorus - Aria (A) - Chorale (T) - Recit (B) - Aria (S) - Chorale
Though Cantatas 44 and 183 share the same opening line (hence identical "titles"), they have little in common.

Introduction and updates at melvinunger.com.

NBA I/12; BC A78

Exaudi: 1. S. after Ascension (BWV 44, 183)

*1 Pet. 4:7-11 (Exhortation to serve one another with the gift each has received) *Begin: "Therefore keep sane and sober..."

*Jn. 15:26-16:4 (Farewell address of Jesus: Holy Spirit promised, persecution foretold)

Librettist: Unknown; perhaps Christian Weiß the elder

FP: 21 May 1724 (St. Thomas). This is the last newly composed cantata

of Bach's first Leipzig cantata cycle

(172, 59, 173, 184, 194 and 165

are either re-performances or parodies of earlier works.)

G major (suggesting smug satisfaction)

Alto is often the voice of the believing soul.
See Petzoldt, "Bach Kommentar" 1:541, 2:917.

Sarabande dance rhythm

For Bach, the sarabande appears to have carried special meaning, able to portray the deepest expression of sad introspection (see, for example, the famous violin chaconne in BWV 1004 or the sarabandes in the cello suites). "Bach wrote more sarabandes than any other dance type...the Leipzig sarabandes...represent Bach's crowning achievement in this genre." See Meredith Little and Natalie Jenne, "Dance and the Music of J. S. Bach," expanded ed., pp. 102, 110.

Da capo Aria. •Persecution awaits true disciples of Christ (44/3):
A soliloquy on Jesus' words in the Gospel reading.
44/3. (Adagio un poco $\text{♩} = 80$)

Sarabande rhythm

The movement is largely in the minor mode. For more on the significance of the minor mode, see side note.

C minor (see note at m. 33 for significance of C).

It is noteworthy that the ritornello theme is not adopted by the singer until m. 61, with the words "Auf sie warten alle Stunden..." (For them awaits at all hours...").

C minor

Alto.

Considering Jesus' words, as if in solitary introspection, the alto begins alone and independent of the oboe's ritornello theme.

The appearance here of the oboe's low C over a repetition of the entire text phrase in a descending scale appears to signify the earthliness of Jesus' and his disciples' suffering.

While extended notes of C in mm. 32–34, 52, 65, and 75—like the extended notes on other pitches in mm. 55–57, 59–60, 68–70, and 76—suggest perseverance in the face of the afflictions listed in the text, the note C appears to signify that these afflictions come as a consequence of following Christ (the text is essentially a soliloquy on Jesus' words in the Gospel reading).

müssen auf der Er-den Christi wahre Jünger sein.

Singer repeats entire phrase over 3 mm. of sustained oboe low C.

For significance of C, see side note. See also mm. 52, 65, 75.

The lively motive introduced in the ritornello (triplet-eighth, followed by a trill) appears to be associated with the sun's laughter (see mm. 43-44). Triplets in rising or falling sequences are also associated with the storms referenced in the text (see m. 35, 40).

Apparent allusion to Tobit (long version) 3:21–22, vv. 22–23 in German bible (Apocrypha): "For this I truly know: Whoever serves God will be comforted after the attack and redeemed out of tribulation, and after chastening he will find mercy. For you find no delight in our perishing. For after the storm (Luther 1545: Ungewitter) you let the sun shine again, and after our wailing and crying you shower us with joys." See side note for German original in Luther's 1545 translation of the bible. Perhaps also an allusion to Jesus calming the stormy sea (Matthew 8:24–26, Mark 4:37–39, Luke 8:23–24).
