BACH & SONS at the organ

Works of: Johann Sebastian, Wilhelm Friedemann, Carl Philipp Emanuel, Johann Christoph Friedrich, and Johann Christian Bach

Johann Sebastian Bach trained his many sons to be the finest organists of their time, yet hardly any organ music survives from them. Through transcription, improvisation, and other acts of imaginative re-creation this recording reunites Bach and his boys for a program that recaptures the virtuosic panache, commanding counterpoint, impressive poise, and exuberant excess of this first family of the organ. Played by award-winning Bach scholar and organist David Yearsley on Cornell University's reconstruction of a Berlin organ from 1706 known to at least one of the Bach sons, this program explores new dimensions not only of Johann Sebastian's towering achievement but also of the kinds of now-lost contributions the next Bach generation might have made to their family instrument's long and glorious history.

Features:

- New CD by distinguished organist, scholar and author, David Yearsley.
- Recorded on the distinguished Munetaka organ, Anabel Taylor Hall, Cornell University, a copy of a Berlin organ from 1706
- Program features transcriptions of works by Bach's sons as well as the Trio Sonata from Bach's Musical Offering, BWV 1079 and the Prelude & Fugue in C major, BWV 547.
- Recorded by Joel Gordon.

Target Markets:

Worldwide major metro markets, culturally-oriented cities & college towns.
